Let's all show up and call this picnic into a "Turn 60" birthday party for our Class of '67. Sing along with the bouncing ball (to the tune "You're Sixteen")...

"A-well-a, you're my baby, you're my pet, we fell in love on the night we met, You touched my hand, my heart went 'pop' and ooh, when we kissed, we could not stop, You walked out of a dream and into my heart, now you're my angel divine. You're sixty-eeen, you're beautiful, and you're mine"

Bulldog Banter...

Romerry Scott, August 19th... I would love to be added to the database. I truly enjoy keeping up with the class of 67 and seeing familiar faces and names that bring back many great memories. Jim McCoy is to be commended for the wonderful website he sponsors as well as Brenda Willhite, Bill McCall and many others who are responsible for keeping us informed and well-coordinated.

I have recently retired and look forward to getting back in touch with 'old' friends and possibly make some new ones. Thanks, Romerry Scott

Frank McCathran, August 27th... They did a great job (see The Dispatch's slide show above). I think I will attend the open house. I would like to attend the picnic as well. Our class has not attended this function in the past. It would be a long day trying to make friends with the class of 64 alone!

Thoughts in Memory of Nancy Esselstein Osborn...

Ada Wilson Kent: Who would have thought that Mary Weld would outlive Nancy?

Brenda Andrews Elliot: Yes, it gives you goose bumps when it is someone you went to school with... plus our class is so close, so it's just like a family member...

Ria Genoozis Harvey... I was sorry to hear about Nancy Esselstein Osborn. I subbed in her class for two weeks when she taught at Southwood Elementary. She was well liked and respected by both the teachers and her students.

Bulldog Humor... Ralph Billiter, August 25th... My kind of car (see attachment)
